POLICY ON MOONLIGHTING

REFERENCE

UCSF Graduate Medical Education Moonlighting Policy (http://medschool.ucsf.edu/gme/).

POLICY AND RATIONALE

Moonlighting is not allowed by the Residency Program and Department.

Residency education is a full-time endeavor, and residents must not engage in activities that interfere with their ability to achieve the goals and objectives of the residency program, may result in fatigue that adversely affects learning or patient care, or are not consistent with GME Duty Hours Policies.

In keeping with the UCSF GME policy, our Department’s policy applies to all residents. The department does not have any ACGME fellows.

PROCESS

Residents will obtain a copy of this policy during the initial orientation to the residency program, and it will be available on-line on our Program’s web page.

Any resident who does not comply with this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, consistent with established UCSF GME Academic Due Process Policies http://medschool.ucsf.edu/gme/coordinators/policies/AcademicDueProcess/index.asp

REVIEW

This policy was reviewed at a Family Medicine Residency Program Advisory Committee (RPAC) meeting on January 19, 2005. Copies were distributed electronically to all residents and faculty members. It was approved by the Department on February 4th, 2005. It was approved by UCSF GMEC February 14, 2005.

The policy will be reviewed by RPAC periodically. Any changes in policy will be submitted to UCSF GMEC for approval.
